A historical black and white photograph of a busy street scene in Alberta, likely from the early 20th century. The street is lined with multi-story buildings. On the left, a building has a sign that reads "DRUG STORE". In the center, a large sign for "BENTLEY COMPANY" is visible, advertising "WHOLESALE & RETAIL" and "LUMBER, CEILING, & SHEDS". To the right, another sign for "Fruit" is partially visible. Several vintage cars and a horse-drawn carriage are on the street. A group of people is standing on the sidewalk on the left. The sky is overcast.
